Residents can also enjoy Jim Witter's The Piano Men (Nov. 12), presented by the City of Aventura-Aventura Arts & Cultural Center, and Kathy Kosins' Ladies of Cool (Dec. 18). A Neil Diamond Tribute (April 2) is also on the schedule, presented by Diamond Promotions and Productions, LLC.

Patrons interested in investing in the arts have several opportunities to support the Center. An Honor Roll plaque featured in the Center's lobby will proudly display the names of Honor Roll Founders. Founders will receive two tickets to an opening event in 2010 and a special event to honor their generosity. Founder donations start at $1,000 up to $5,000. A "Walk of Arts" will also be featured at the Center, paved with 12" x 12" commemorative bricks that can be engraved with a personal inscription or company logo for a $150 donation. All Prepped Up and Nowhere to Go

Don't let a hurricane catch you unprepared. Aventura is in an evacuation zone for any storm Category 2 or higher. By having your evacuation plans prepared in advance you can avoid stress and worry for you and your family.

Having a plan means you know where you'll go in the event of an evacuation, you've made arrangements for pets and you've got a disaster kit ready to go.

where County buses will continue on to local shelters. Buses will discontinue service when winds reach 35 MPH.

KNOW WHERE

Where you go is important. The City of Aventura may not be accessible for days after the storm. Power may be out making food and gas unavailable. Make a plan ahead of time to stay with family and friends inland, minimizing your travel time to avoid traffic jams. As a last resort, you can go to a shelter however keep in mind that you will need to bring supplies and not all accept pets.

WHEN

When an order is issued, you want to leave as soon as possible. Traffic delays will worsen over time and flooded streets can be a problem as rains approach in advance of the storm. This is why you need to have your disaster kit prepped in advance so you can just grab it and go.

HOW

If you are not planning to drive out of the City, take note of emergency bus routes. The Aventura Express will begin an emergency schedule that will be posted on the City's web site or you can call the Express hotline: 305-932-1287. Emergency routes will take riders to Aventura Plaza or Promenade Shoppes

WHAT

The things you'll need for your evacuation should be included in your disaster kit:

- Water, Food, Blankets
- Pillows, Clothing, First Aid Kit
- Medicines
- Prescription Drugs, Special Items for Infants and the Elderly, Toiletries
- Hygiene Items
- Moist Wipes, Flashlight
- Batteries, Radio, Telephones
- Cash, Credit Cards, Keys
- Toys, Books and Games
- Important Documents
- Tools, Vehicle Fuel Tanks Filled
- Pet Care Items

WHY?

If the City of Aventura is under an evacuation order, it's for good reason. Higher winds in a high-rise community, coastal flooding and storm surge are real dangers. Being a coastal community, the City of Aventura is at risk of storm surge and severe flooding. Being prepped and knowing where to go is key to keeping you and your family safe during hurricane season. 🌩️

Local Flooding Facts

Flooding is an act of nature that respects no boundary lines. In the City of Aventura, flooding is generally caused by heavy rainfall that occurs in short periods of time, as is common during summer thunderstorms, tropical storms and hurricanes. The City is vulnerable to flooding from storm water runoff and coastal storm surges. Due to this flood risk, the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) has designated most of the City as a Special Flood Hazard Area on the Flood Insurance Rate Map (FIRM). This map designates areas susceptible to the 100-year flood and for safety purposes, establishes minimum elevations for construction.

A 100-year flood is the equivalent of 10 or more inches of rain within 24 hours. A 100-year flood has a 1% chance of occurring in any given year. However, it can occur more than once in a given year or in successive years. The potential for loss and damage in the City of Aventura during a heavy storm or hurricane does exist. Residents and property owners should be aware of this potential risk and be prepared to deal with flooding when it occurs.

FLOODPLAINS ARE ESSENTIAL

Although flooding is a nuisance, floodplains are an essential part of the natural cycle in South Florida. The Everglades, which is one expansive floodplain, and the Biscayne Aquifer which lies underneath, are South Florida's only source of drinking water. They need large quantities of water to be replenished. Occasional floods are, and always have been, essential sources of fresh water to replenish the Biscayne Aquifer.

FLOODPLAIN DEVELOPMENT REGULATIONS

Developers wishing to build in designated floodplain areas (including the City of Aventura) must use proper design techniques and structural requirements to ensure that new developments are flood proof. City officials must review all new developments in the City of Aventura to ensure the designs meet the City's Floodplain Development Regulations in order to receive a permit for construction. The City has adopted Floodplain Development Regulations that require that all new construction have a lowest floor elevation 12" above the base flood elevation or 18" above the crown of the road, whichever is highest.

Before beginning a project, check with the Community Development Department for all codes and regulations that apply to your property.

SPECIAL FLOOD HAZARD AREA DISCLOSURE

It is a requirement in Miami-Dade County that any purchase of improved real estate located in a Special Flood Hazard Area or Coastal Flood Hazard Area include a full disclosure to the buyer that the property lies in either of those zones. This requirement alerts potential buyers to the threat of flooding in the area, so they can make an informed purchasing decision.

IMPROVEMENTS TO PROPERTY IN FLOOD HAZARD AREAS

For properties located in Special Flood Hazard Areas, it is required that improvements to properties be done in a manner which meets the current Floodplain Development Regulations. This requirement applies to:

- Any structure which has incurred damage estimated at more than 50% of its market value
- Any structure where improvements are planned where the cost of improvements is more than 50% of its market value
- Any combination of the above two

FLOOD PROTECTION METHODS

When constructing a new or improved structure in a floodplain area, any combination of these methods may be employed to reduce the flooding potential. These methods must be approved by the City, and must not negatively impact surrounding properties.

■ RELOCATION: Perhaps the only technique for completely preventing future flood damage. This method involves moving a house out of a flood area to a new location where there is no threat of flooding.

■ ELEVATION: This method consists of raising a house on an elevated support structure to place it above future floodwaters.

■ LEVEES: Also known as a berm, this is a method of creating a barrier of compacted soil to keep the water away from a property.

■ FLOODWALLS: Similar to a levee, floodwalls are designed to keep the water away from the house but are constructed of permanent materials such as concrete.

NATIONAL FLOOD INSURANCE PROGRAM

Visit floodsmart.gov for more info.

■ CLOSURES: Used in conjunction with other techniques such as floodwalls and levees, closures provide protection for gaps that are open for frequent usage such as sidewalks and driveways.

FLOOD MITIGATION STEPS

Even if you are not doing major improvements to your property, there are steps you can take to make your property more flood-proof, including:

- Grading your property to facilitate stormwater run-off
- Elevating major appliances such as air-conditioning units and water heaters to prevent damage during flooding
- Using flood-proofing materials such as paints and sealants
- Checking sewer trap valves to prevent backup flooding
- Cleaning gutters and storm drains around your property to permit free flow of water
- Keeping a stockpile of sandbags and construction materials available

FLOOD INSURANCE

One of the best ways to protect your investment is to insure it. Standard homeowners insurance and windstorm policies DO NOT cover losses from flooding (rising waters)! The Flood Disaster Protection Act of 1973 requires the purchase of flood insurance as a condition of receiving any federally related loan for purchase or construction of any building or mobile home located in any Special Flood Hazard Area.

The City of Aventura is a participant in the National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP), which is administered by the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA). Federally guaranteed flood insurance is available to City residents in AE Flood Zones at a discount of 15% because of the City's participation. NFIP policies are sold through licensed insurance agents and companies. You should buy flood insurance before the storm season, as there a 30-day waiting period before coverage takes effect.

Federal flood insurance can protect homes, businesses and belongings from damage caused by flooding, including:

- STRUCTURAL ELEMENTS: such as walls, floors, equipment and fixtures.
- CONTENTS: such as furniture, appliances and carpeting
- PERSONAL ITEMS: such as clothing, stereos and televisions

You do not have to live in a special flood hazard area or a Flood Insurance Rate Map (FIRM) designated flood zone to purchase flood insurance. In fact, if you live in a low-risk area, you may be eligible for a low-cost preferred risk policy. Even if you rent, do not have a mortgage or do not live in a Special Flood Hazard Area, you should still purchase flood insurance!

FLOOD WARNINGS

The Miami-Dade Office of Emergency Management and the National Weather Service issue flood, hurricane and severe weather warnings.

In the case of a hurricane, an Evacuation Order will be given by the Mayor of Miami-Dade County and will be broadcast on local TV and radio stations. The City of Aventura is located in an Evacuation Zone for any storm of Category 2 force or greater. This means all residents are required to leave the City when an Evacuation Order for a Category 2 storm is given. Aventura condominiums and property managers will also be notified of the Evacuation Order by a fax from the Office of the City Manager.

Residents should stay tuned to the local TV and radio stations for updates on storms, and should evacuate as soon as an Evacuation Order is issued.

FLOOD SAFETY TIPS

These are important tips you can follow when flooding threatens, whether you are staying in your home or evacuating.

BEFORE THE FLOOD:

- Learn and practice the safest route from your home or business to high ground in case you must evacuate.
- Listen to local news for Evacuation Orders and shelter openings. Evacuate immediately once an order is given.
- Turn off water, gas and electric service to your home and plug drains with large corks to prevent sewer backup.
- Keep a disaster kit on hand with a portable radio, flashlight, and emergency cooking equipment, drinking water, batteries, first aid supplies, money, canned foods and sturdy shoes.
- Develop and practice an emergency communication plan with your family. Designate an out-of-state friend or relative to serve as the “family contact.”
- Fill your car with gas and move it to the highest point on your property.
- Flood-proof your home by utilizing the improvement and mitigation steps outlined in this article.
- Buy flood insurance to cover the value of your home and its contents.
- Take pictures or videos of your home and valuables and keep them in a safe, dry place with your insurance policy.

DURING THE FLOOD:

- Keep a battery-powered radio tuned to a local station for emergency information. Follow instructions for your area.
- Elevate valuables or move them to higher floors.
- Do not drive, walk or play in flooded areas. Strong currents, broken objects, wild animals and raw sewage pose serious health and safety threats. Wear sturdy shoes.
- Stay away from downed power lines. A downed power line in a puddle of water may electrify the entire puddle.

AFTER THE FLOOD:

- Before entering a building, check for structural damage.
- Inspect for fire, electrical or gas hazards and submerged appliances before turning utilities back on.
- If you smell gas in or around your home, call your utility supplier immediately.
- Use bottled water only, until tapwater has been declared safe for consumption by officials.
- Dispose of everything, including food, that has come in contact with flood waters. The flood waters could be contaminated with raw sewage and poisonous chemicals.
